President's Message

Happy New Year, TCOM Members and Friends!
The weather has been a little rough and we've all been pretty busy with the new year. We are excited to have our first meeting of 2018 on Wednesday February 14th with guest speaker Sean Healy of FedEx!

Your board has been working to line up some great speakers and events for 2018. Keep an eye on your inbox for event announcements.

We are sometimes approached by members asking about ways they can be more involved. We would love to have you help out on one of our committees! Let us know what area you would be interested in being more involved with and we will connect you to the appropriate board member.

I look forward to seeing you next week!

-Robin Colwell
